Future Outcome of Political Uprising Problematical
As People Are Cowed

FOOD SUPPLY BETTER
THAN WAS LAST YEAR

Scheidemann Socialists Are
In With Minority to Keep
Balance of Power

BY JAN BRUNA
(Written for the United Press)
THE HAGUE, Feb. 5.—Germany's first political strike was waiting today.

It reached its highest point of demoralization of German industry last Friday, according to very reliable information received here. On that date 10 per cent of all workers in war manufactories were out.

The future effect of the strike is problematical. It is certain, however, that the tie-up created intense bitterness between the laboring classes and the so-called "middle class" in Germany. The strikers' demands for food were received with indignation by other classes. Everybody knows in Germany the laborers' rations are much better than those which the average middle class salaried man can afford. The food in factories cannot be bought by the man of average means. His salary has not increased anywhere near the rate that of the workers has advanced. From carefully compiled information reaching here, the main centers of the strike were Berlin and Hamburg. The percentage of workers out was much higher than in Silesia and Saxony, where most of the employees were working in the Rhineland surrounding Saarbrücken only part of the miners were out. No important engineers' organizations joined the movement. From authoritative reports it was learned that the independent socialists of the central empires had intended to strike simultaneously in Austria and in Germany, under a sort of I. W. W. leadership. But the careful telegraphic censorship of Austria prevented dispatch of the password.

A United Effort
From the explanation of the social democratic party and trades union leaders, the German strike "broke out spontaneously." Probably this means that the leaders abandoned the idea of a joint Austro-German strike after failure of the Austrian strike. It appeared they desired to wait a more favorable movement. But when the "spontaneous outbreak" did come the adherents of Philip Scheidemann, majority socialist leader, feared that the minority socialist party, under Dr.
Haase, which was supporting the strike, might gain too strong a hold on the workers. Scheidemann and his associates, therefore, openly joined in the strike movement. They assumed a share of the responsibility and Scheidemann himself undertook leadership.

From all the mass of rumors received here it appears there were very few excesses by the strikers. Lighting and heating in the city were apparently unaffected. The gas workers and electricians did not join the strike.

Better Than Last Year
Prominent Germans here doubt that any collaboration will continue between the socialists—adherents of Haase as well as Scheidemann—and the government liberals and center party members henceforth. One thing the strike emphasizes is that though the food situation in Germany is not as bad as last year, the hardships of constant food economy are in the long run beginning to weigh heavily on the public.

As to the injection of peace demands into the strike situation, the impression is prevailing in Germany that the annexationists are influencing the conduct of negotiations at Brest Litovsk. Socialists in the empire are convinced that the German delegates would have been more successful if they had given the impression that Germany was serious to permit self-determination of the Poles, Lithuanians, Lettis and peoples of other Baltic provinces.

Foreign Minister Kuehlmann's explanations before the Mamm committee may have satisfied the socialist members of the reichstag—but they did not convince the workers of Germany, whose mistrust was strengthened by General Hoffman's speeches.
Though the German people have an impression that Bolsheviki Minister Trotsky is dishonest, they believe his influence at Brest Litovsk would have been much less if the central powers
had clearly shown they really wanted a

ADVERTISING TO SPREAD THE LIGHT OF TRUTH AND FREEDOM

Most Remarkable, Significant and Important Civic Development of Recent Years.

BY MILTON M. ALEXANDER
Chairman Michigan State Board of Patriotic Advertising

Some years ago, in addressing the Business Men's Club of one of our local churches, I made the statement that "the time was rapidly approaching when advertising would spread the light of truth and freedom even unto the four corners of the earth."

Let me be frank about this matter. Assuredly I did not believe that the time would come as soon or that the power of advertising would be so speedily appreciated as a force for doing the big work of the world.

Advertising, strictly speaking, is "inspired information," or information deliberately spread with the definite purpose in mind of producing a certain action.

It is only because of the superior adaptability and means of business men that advertising has come to be regarded as A PARTICULAR BRANCH OF COMMERCE. There is no basic reason why advertising should not be able to "sell" science as well as shoes, justice as well as jewels, philanthropy as well as furniture.

Do I make myself plain?

GREAT NATIONS ADVERTISING
We now see the spectacle of great nations advertising their wishes to the world—of resorting to basic merchandising plans to further their patriotic projects. We find advertising called upon to help raise the men, money and methods that will make a whole world safe for democracy. The start has been made—the progress has been inspiring—the possibilities are without end.

Perhaps the most remarkable, important and significant civic development of recent years is the demonstrated efficiency and rapidly growing popularity of community advertising—that is, advertising by societies, associations, political parties; by city, county, state and national governments; by allied industries for educational purposes, and to create and control public sentiment. England literally raised her army by advertising. When all else had failed, advertising did the business. America sold her bonds, raised her Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross subscriptions, and will continue to do so by advertising. The only difference between England and America in this respect is that the English Government paid the advertising bills, while in America the newspapers have donated large quantities of space and other large quantities were paid for by patriotic business men and civic and industrial associations. And now the Federal Government has created an advertising bureau to develop and direct the advertising resources and facilities of the country.

The first state, so far as we know, to create a similar co-ordinating bureau is Michigan.

The Michigan "State Board of Patriotic Advertising," appointed by Governor Sleeper some weeks ago, has a definite program of work.
Says Chairman Milton M. Alexander, "We propose, first of all, to make a survey of the entire state, with the idea of finding out exactly what has so far been accomplished for the benefit of the country, from an advertising standpoint. We hope to find out how much money has been spent—and how much space donated—for advertising the various national enterprises in each county of the state.

"We hope to find out to what extent use was made of the various types of mediums, and which, if any, were ignored or neglected. We hope to find out which channels were not used to fullest advantage and why.

WANT TO REACH FARMERS
"Having secured this information, we will attempt the organization of county advertising committees, composed of the best local advertising and publishing talent, and to each committee will be submitted a plan of campaign.

"Finally, the state board will undoubtedly act as a clearing house for the best advertising copy and ideas produced in various parts of the state—and in other states—and place same at the disposal of all communities—A special effort will be made to reach the farming communities, and for this reason the state body includes in its membership the best informed men in Michigan upon agricultural subjects and 'farm psychology.'"

Refuse to Fight
The fact also that the German government will not declare open war against the Fatherland party—the junkies supreme—has increased general satisfaction.

Professor Delbrueck explains the government's action on the ground that "so long as the party's doings do not conflict with the law the government must remain faithful to the imperial word of August, 1914, voicing the belief there were no parties in Germany."

General discontent has likewise
been fomented by the delay in constitutional reform on the part of the Prussian diet and the main committee of the reichstag. Reform has been promised but so far withheld. The reason is the German conservatives understand they cannot fight reform openly—therefore, they are trying to delay it by first discussing the whole matter in the upper house. On account of all these factors, the strike would have been greater if it had found the ground fertilized by the Russian revolution. But even the most radical of the socialists express the belief that the chances of a revolutionary movement seem small—partly due to conviction that the allied demands on Germany are in the interest of world imperialism.

HAIG REPORTS MANY KILLED BY RAIDERS

LONDON, Feb. 5.—"Many Germans were killed" and prisoners and machine guns taken in successful British raids south of Fleurbaix and in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Staden railway last night, Field Marshal Haig announced today.

RESISTANCE OF
STARVING MEN
WOMEN ABOUT
AT AN END

Cowed By Threats of Firing Squad, Fearful Thousands
Return to Factories

BY ED L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Feb. 5.—German militarism is still supreme in the central empires. Its iron heel today had crushed out practically the last vestige of resistance by the starving, enslaved common people.

Cowed by the threat of the firing squad and fearful for the fate of their women and children, through reduction of their already meager rations,
the protesting workers have practically all returned to the factories.

Only one isolated case of continued resistance was reported. That was at Jena, where the Tageblatt said a third of the men employed there had walked out Saturday.

There is a disposition among officials
and students of economics here to resist the coming of the general strike as only a temporary increase of the central empires' industrial and political problems.

Expect Further Trouble
The work of the extraordinary court-martial at Berlin, in imposing severe penalties on strike leaders, is expected to provide fuel for further trouble.

Wilhelm Dittmann, socialist member of the reichstag, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment for "inciting to high treason and was given an additional two months for resisting public authority."

Imperial Chancellor Hertling previously had refused to intervene in Dittmann's case, declaring he could invoke no civil procedure so long as the military was supreme in the capital.

Heinrich Schulze, another popular leader, is under six-months' sentence
for distributing strike literature.

JUNKERDOM WINS IN GERMAN STRIKES

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 5.—Semi-official dispatches received here from Germany today confirmed reports from other sources that junkerdom has achieved another victory in the central empires by putting down the general strike.

The number of strikers "declined"
yesterday—the time limit set by military officials for inauguration of the extreme penalty—and many works
were in full operation on that day, it was reported.

Seventy-five to eighty per cent of the employees of the Borsig factory at Tegel and other big armament plants
were working yesterday, the dispatches
said.

It was declared that "further abatement of the strike" was expected today.

STRIKERS ATTEMPT TO BOMB PALACE

GENEVA, Feb. 5.—German strikers threw a bomb against the imperial palace in Berlin, according to dispatches received from that city today
by the Journal De Geneve. No details were given.

14,120 BRITISH NON-COMBATANTS LOST BY DEATH IN AIR, WATER

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Enemy submarines and air raiders have killed 14-120 British non-combatants including men, women and children, Chancellor of the Exchequer Bonar Law declared in the House of Commons this afternoon.

R. R. EMPLOYES NOT TO GET PRIVILEGES
OF COMPENSATION ACT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—That the Federal employees of the National railways are not to be given the privileges of the Federal Employees' Compensation act, was practically assured when the House committee struck from the railroad bill today the Administration provision extending the act to railroad men. The Senate committee has taken similar action.

WAR COSTS GERMANY
1,300,000 IN DEAD

ZURICH, Feb. 5.—The war has cost Germany alone 1,300,000 in dead and as many more have been wholly or partially incapacitated, Socialist member Segitz declared in the Bavarian diet, according to dispatches received here today.

HERE IS THE JURY
The twelve men who are trying
Edward Keyes are E. N. Gage, Yorba Linda; John Lemke, Pla-centia; G. R. Smith, East First street; O. H. Burke, Tustin; W.
L. Shatto, Tustin; George H. Mills,
Garden Grove; J. W. Hetebrink, Fullerton; Wm. F. Feldner, Orange; George McNeill, Buena Park; Charles H. Warner, Bolsa;
James S. Tuffree, Placentia; Chas.
L. Hanson, Placentia.
District Attorney West accepted
every man who was called to the jurybox. He used no peremptory.
Attorney Carpenter for Keyes used peremptories to excuse Alfred Leech, Orange; D. W. Ellis, Greenville; G. R. Reyburn, Garden
Grove; Aaron T. Dungan. Evidently the reason for excusing Ellis was his residence toward Newport Beach, near where the crime was committed. The others seemed too positive in their fixed opinions concerning the case.

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY GROW
MORE SERIOUS

Believed Information Held
By Britain Influenced Inter-allied Council

BY LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Feb. 5.—Secret knowledge in the possession of the British Government regarding conditions in Germany may have influenced the uncompromising attitude adopted by the inter-allied council at Versailles.

Food conditions in the central powers are known to be increasingly serious.
The Russian "store house," upon which the central empires were counting to relieve their own hunger, is still locked—because Leon Trotsky, Russian foreign minister, out-manuevered
both the central empires and the Ukrainians.

Germany's plight is indicated by the recent order forbidding relatives to send parcels of food to officers held prisoner in England and France and directing that money be sent instead.
This has resulted in cutting off the export of thousands of parcels from Germany weekly.

The Exchange Telegraph declares that mail from relatives to prisoners
here totals 500,000 letters a fortnight.
Incoming letters, it said, reveal a state of affairs in Germany infinitely worse than heretofore reported.

Diseases, due to under-nourishment,
are increasing, it is reported, and discontent is evidenced among all classes.

FRANCIS HENEY MAY
SHOW HAND IN FIGHT
UPON MEAT PACKERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—With Henry Veeder, Swift attorney, defying the Federal Trade Commission, Francis
J. Heney, special counsel investigating the packers, promised to show his hand in an effort to obtain papers from Veeder's vaults. Veeder broke seals placed on his files by commission
agents and Heney immediately conferred with United States District Atorney Charles F. Clyne to plan court action.

Heney intimated Veeder would release the papers if granted immunity from prosecution. Federal authorities are considering placing the entire matter in the hands of the grand jury which convenes tomorrow.

OWNERS OF RAILROADS WANT GOVERNMENT TO FAIL IN OPERATION

Public Will Not Stand For Return to Old System If Present Is Success

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The charge that the railroad owners are trying to discredit the government operation of roads has been made by the brotherhoods
of railwaymen in a hearing before the federal wage commission.
President Lee of the Trainmen
said:

"Please excuse us for being suspicious, but we have been dealing with these men for half a century. The old management does not want the government to prove that experienced railroad men are not permitted to operate
where their training dictates.
"Do you think the public will let the railroads go back to the old system if government management proves efficient? That is why we wish to see the government operation a success."

Believes Strain Will Grow and That Beginning of Strug-

CHARGES BLINDNESS
PERMEATES PLANNING

Blames Antiquated Red Tape
For Delay In Preparation
In All Departments

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—"Lack of vision" has stalled America's war engine, Senator Wadsworth charged in the Senate today, "and a greater breakdown than the one from which we are now suffering threatens unless some directing agency is created.

"I entertain the deep conviction that the end of this war is not in sight, that we shall travel a long,
hard road before we reach the goal,"
he said. "I feel certain that the strain will grow more and more severe as the months go by.

"America's effort must constantly expand; we must send more and more troops abroad, must build more and more ships to carry them; must grow more and more food to feed them and to feed the allies, and we must make use of an ever-increasing percentage of our mines, transportation facilities and manufacturing facilities.
Just Commencing Work

"In short, I am convinced that we are only on the threshold of this tremendous undertaking. I am not satisfied that we have the kind of organization and machinery that can stand the strain."

Firing the second volley, designed to rake the war administration of Secretary Baker, Wadsworth declared that "blindness" found this country
"pathetic in its unpreparedness" at the opening of the war. Since then, he added, "this great giant (the war machine) has been stumbling, groping, exerting his tremendous strength without always knowing what he was doing or where he was going."

He deplored the shipping situation and declared the transportation facilities were hopelessly jammed and congested. Conditions today, he said, are "glaring results of the lack of centralized directing authority."

Pointing out that the Government did practically nothing during the year preceding the entrance of the United States into the war to prepare for the inevitable, Wadsworth declared:

Blindness Shown
"We were so blind as to permit one of our Government rifle factories to operate much below its capacity all through the year 1916 and other factories to cease altogether making rifles during that period."

"The condition of the two factories is but one example of our neglect,"
he declared. "In the broader field of industrial preparation little, if anything of an effective nature was done."

"As we look back now we have learned, I hope, a great lesson—a lesson learned at the expense of many lives and millions of dollars. We have learned that our noses have prolonged the end of our noses. We have prolonged this ghastly war and postponed that day when mankind shall be released from its terrors and the future of this republic made absolutely sure."

Turning to the committee's investigation of the ordnance and quartermaster departments, Wadsworth declared that the testimony forced the conviction that military men were not fitted to handle the vast industrial problem. This, he said, was complicated by the antiquated red tape system prevailing.

Need Industrial Basis
"We became impressed with the conviction that the purchase, production and initial distribution of the vast amount of supplies must be an essentially industrial operation," he said,
"and that military men, no matter how distinguished and capable in their profession, are, with very rare exceptions, inexperienced in such matters and therefore incapable of bringing about the best results in the shortest time.

"We found also that in addition to this fundamental handicap, these supply bureaus were handicapped, and very seriously, by a condition which springs from a routine operation, regulated and checked down to the last crossing of the 'T' and dotting of an
'i,' which condition is popularly ascribed to 'red tape.'"

"In a word, we found the machinery
slow and creaking and in some important instances the engine 'stalled,'
and the testimony of manufacturers and the testimony of manufacturers."

BAKERS OPERATE UNDER STRICT GOVERNMENT AUTHORITY

New Regulations Received Today From Food Administration Give Orders

Strict regulations for all bakers in California are handed down in communications received by local bakers today from the United States Food Administration's office, Ralph P. Merritt of San Francisco.

The rules are not decidedly different from those already made public but they go more into detail than anything published here. Local bakers who operate under Government license are required to live up carefully to requirements sent out, under penalty of having their licenses revoked. Bakers here declare that their service will not be hampered by the new ruling. They will substitute other kinds of flour for the white wheat flour, and while the quality of the bread will be somewhat different, it will be as nourishing and as satisfactory as before. The rules announced today have already been put into operation by local bakers regardless of the fact that they have not heretofore had official notification.

The following rules have been formulated by the United States Food Administration with the approval of the President. They apply to all licensed bakers:

On and after February 3, 1918, bakers will be required under the license regulations to mix five per cent of other cereals with their wheat flour, both in bread and rolls, and will be required gradually to increase this substitution until, beginning February 24, a minimum of 20 per cent of such cereals is to be used. This product will be known as "Victory Bread" and must contain not less than 20 per cent of cereals other than wheat, Graham or whole-wheat bread will also be given that name, because, containing as they do 25 per cent more of the wheat grain than ordinary white bread that, too, will serve the purpose of saving white flour.

After February 1, bakers of sweet yeast dough goods, crackers, cakes, pies, doughnuts and pastry, are not to purchase to exceed 70 per cent of the wheat flour they used during the corresponding months of 1917. These manufacturers will be performing a patriotic service by using cereals other than wheat in their productions.

No sweet yeast dough goods, crackers, cakes, pies, doughnuts or pastry made of white flour may be sold on Mondays or Wednesdays, wheatless days. Similar goods in which 35 per cent other cereals are used with not to exceed 15 per cent of wheat flour as a binder may be sold on wheatless days. The above rules to be complied with. Any failure to conform will result in loss of license.

GOOD WORK IS DONE BY THE VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers have been doing excellent work at the exemption board headquarters in filling out Government reports upon questionnaires. Yesterday Mrs. A. R. Parslow worked all day, and A. E. Carlson, Mrs. Ruby C. Tedford and Mrs. Mary L. Tillotson put in the afternoon at the work. Last night the class of volunteers included Miss Hazel Fifield, Mrs. Edith Bohannon, Mrs. Myrl Bohannon, Miss May Pulham, Miss Grace Allen, Robert C. Northcross and F. E. Chaffee.

LOCAL BOARD NO. 2 DOES NOT STOP THE EXES

FULLERTON, Feb. 5.—The local exemption board received a telegram from Provost General Crowder Saturday, reading as follows:

The men to be examined on these dates have all been notified to appear, and the board will go on with their examination, unless additional information should be received in the meantime. LATEST MODEL

"Prohibition plays a wonderful part in politics."

Yes," replied Senator Sorghum; "the water wagon is now the band wagon."—Washington Star.

"Here is a war-time recipe for bread, taken from the Bible. In the ninth verse of the fourth chapter of Ezekiel, it states: 'Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof.'"

NOT A MAN WHEN HIDES BEHIND PETTICOATS SAYS BALL

Thirty-six Cases Heard By Appeal Board Last Night; Thirteen Denied

One young man went away from the meeting of the district appeal board which sat at the court house last night to hear claims for exemption from Orange County District No. 2, knowing just how Dr. C. D. Ball feels regarding a man getting married just before the draft. It was in the case of William Grotto of Anaheim, Grotto testified that he had a dependent father 75 years old, a dependent mother 65 and a sister 25 who was not well. He had a brother 28 who had recently been married and was not contributing anything to the support of his parents.

"I think a man like your brother who got behind a woman's petticoats and left you to take care of your dependent parents, belongs over in France in the trenches," declared Dr. Ball. "He is not a man, and I hope you will go home and tell him what I said about him."

Dr. Ball then allowed Grotto's claim for exemption on the dependency ground, and as he left the room, a man and woman arose to leave with him who evidently were the brother and wife referred to, so that it would not be necessary for the words of Dr. Ball to be repeated, as they were spoken so that everyone in the room could hear them.

District No. 2 was out in force last night. Thirty-six cases were heard by Dr. Ball and his associates, Chief Clerk George Gohar of District No. 2, Dr. George C. Clark, member of the board in District No. 2, and the attorney in that district, J. Harold Coyle. Things broke about even for those seeking exemption. The claims of thirteen were denied, fifteen claims were allowed, and the remainder were referred to various other authorities.

Ball Player at Bat

Edgar W. McGaffey, "Eddie" McGaffey, semi-professional baseball player was the first man to come to bat. He testified that he worked in the oil fields, had dependent mother and 51 years old, not in good health, and Dr. Ball referred case to Mr. Wright, head of industrial work, and claim was temporarily allowed pending further action.

Lewis D. Smith, Garden Grove; father, 59; owns 60 acres, 30 acres in walnuts, on balance raised beans. Father in good health. Claim denied.

Fred Maigre, Fullerton; outside construction foreman working on construction work in oil fields. Case referred to Mr. Wright.

Walter L. Paulus, Anaheim. This case proved an interesting one as the testimony brought out that the applicant had already been denied exemption on a former appeal, and had finally taken the case to the President of the United States without getting any satisfaction.

Paulus testified that he owns three acres of oranges, and worked an Irvine lease of 150 acres. He has five brothers, 42, 39, 37, 20 and 17, none of whom is in the service. Paulus formerly had a partner in his ranching enterprise, but at present is working it alone. Dr. Ball read some testimony which had been submitted which Paulus declared to be absolutely false.

"Where did you get that information?" he asked of Dr. Ball. "That is none of your concern," replied the doctor. "We have many ways of getting information." A communication was read from Washington showing that the President had recommended that the claim be denied.

Dr. Ball ruled that inasmuch as the case had gone so far, he would take it under advisement and put it before the board as a whole.

"Go and Try It"

Bruce Friend, Fullerton. He had been rejected when previously called because of a physical disability. He declared that he had no objection to going if he could pass the physical examination. "All right," said Dr. Ball, "Go and try it."

Elton Vanderhorff, Fullerton. He was rejected in the first draft on account of his eyes. He testified that he was a truck gardener, raising beans, cabbage and potatoes. Claim was denied, letting his physical qualifications settle whether or not he should go.

Albert Heinicke, Fullerton; testified that he raised nothing but oranges.

DRUGGISTS SUPPLY IN TABLET FORM AND PURCHASERS REGISTERED "WINNING EXHIBIT" SATISFACTION OR MONEY BACK

Weak nerves rob men and women of all the joy of life and quickly reduce the strong and robust to a condition which is pitiable in the extreme. This condition is brought about slowly and stealthily in the majority of cases, and the poor sufferer fails to realize what is wrong until family members, indecision, nervousness, or other unmistakable symptom, indicates weak nerves. It is then that many people make the big mistake of resorting to the use of so-called nerve tonics, alcoholic stimulants or drugs. Nothing could be more harmful or more dangerous. The nerves are weak and exhausted; they need food and nourishment—not drugs that will wash them into temporary activity. Feed your nerves and they will become strong again and your health will improve in consequence. That is the advice of present day physicians and specialists, and the nerve food they recommend is just one 5-gr. tablet of pure bitro-phosphate taken during or immediately after every meal. Simple advice, but its excellence has been proved over and over again, and as a package containing sufficient bitro-phosphate tablets for two weeks' treatment can be obtained from any druggist at reasonable cost, the remedy is within the reach of every sufferer from weak nerves. Moreover, the whole risk of the trial is assumed by the manufacturers, for every package of bitro-phosphate tablets is accompanied by a binding guarantee of satisfaction or money back. It is sold in all cities by Rowley Drug Co. and all good druggists.

and claim was denied on the ground that oranges contributed nothing to aid in the war.

Frank Borchard, Huntington Beach; testified as to his activity in raising bees. Claim of dependency of his wife and two children was denied, on the ground that his income was sufficient to take care of them, but since he contributed so largely in raising bees, beans and hay, his agricultural claim was allowed.

Hugh G. Hicks, Whittier; was married May 28, 1917. He testified that he did not marry to avoid the draft, but that his engagement had been announced in February. Had worked in the oil fields two years. Claim was continued one week to allow him to bring in affidavits.

Ernest P. Wieman, Whittier; driller for the Union Oil Company, six years. Industrial claim allowed.

Deferred Classification

Carl Stoffel, Anaheim; claimed dependency of father and mother, and claimed exemption on agricultural grounds. Has two brothers, one 23 and one 26. The elder is in France with the U. S. infantry, and the younger is living in Kansas. The testimony showed the income from his father's property to be sufficient to care for his parents, and his claim on dependency grounds was denied, but because of the fact that one brother was in France, he was placed in a deferred classification.

Herbert O. Salverson, Fullerton; claimed dependency of father; has brother in service at Camp Lewis. His father was present and testified and because of the feeble condition of his father dependency claim was allowed, although agricultural claim was denied.

Otto J. Kutzner, Santa Ana; testimony showed his father owned property here and house and lots in Los Angeles. One brother is working in the shipyards at San Pedro. Claim denied. James Tyner, La Habra; construction foreman in the oil fields, where he had worked for nearly eleven years. Had from four to twenty men under him at various times. Claim allowed.

William Beazley, Buena Park; farms forty acres of rented land. Testimony failed to show agricultural claim as sufficient to secure his exemption. Denied.

James W. McGill, Orange; father owned property worth $16,000. Has two sisters single living at home. One brother married. Claim denied.

One Should Go

Ester L. Green, Westminster. He and his brother raise bees and beans on 720 acres. Own equipment valued at $18,000. Dr. Ball declares that he felt that one of the brothers should go, and as it was shown that the other brother had already been classified in division number three, the claim was denied.

L. W. Wickersheim, East Orange, N. J. Father appeared for Wickersheim, and testified that his son was working for the Western Electric Company, doing signal corps and electrical development work. His affidavits were long and complicated, and the case was referred to the Government attorney.

Leon Recoute, Glorietta; born in France; had never taken out papers, so was an alien and not under draft. Tony Claes, Anaheim; works for Anaheim Truck and Transfer Company, and helps in support of father and mother. Claim denied, on ground that his income from the Government would allow him to contribute as much to the support of his parents as he was now giving them.

William Frink, Los Angeles; sole support of his mother, 58 years old. Lives with his mother. Case referred to attorney.

Herman Berman, Anaheim; farming 65 acres mostly rented land; testified he has brother in Iowa whom he thinks has been drafted, but has had no recent word. Placed in deferred classification to determine whether brother has gone.

Dependency Denied

Julius Hilbers; father has income property and has one brother in service. Dependency claim was denied, but placed in deferred classification because of age of father and fact that one brother was already in the service.

Francis E. Penhall, Westminster; married three years ago; wife wholly dependent. Has brother in the service. Claim allowed.

Charles S. Jones, Anaheim; testified he was totally deaf in one ear; farms forty acres; has two brothers, one 16, other 26. Agricultural claim denied, leaving physical board to decide his case.

Guidesippi Roggero, Buena Park; born in Italy; took out first papers three years ago. Farms with his brother, 39 years old. Agricultural claim denied.

George Tanner, Anaheim; claims dependency; showed his father owned sufficient property to keep them, but since he had one brother already in the service and another whom he thought was planning to enter, he was given deferred classification and the clerk of the board in District No. 2 was authorized to place him in service if his brother did not enlist.

W. J. Frampton, Fullerton; tool dresser for Union Oil Company. Allowed.

Henry G. Mayer, Anaheim; dependent mother and sister, and one brother in the service. Claim allowed.

William Giese, Lodi, Cal.; does all the work on his father's ranch of 28 acres. Father unable to work. Taken under advisement.

I. E. Hatfield, Placentia; dependency not shown, but he was placed in deferred classification on agricultural claim.

Claim Denied

Charles H. McKim; mother appeared for him and testified that she was entirely dependent on her son. She is a nurse, but has been unable to work. Referred to attorney, who later recommended that claim be denied.

Roy T. Hanson, Fullerton; married four years, but wife works part of the time. Claim allowed.

Harold Brewer; has wife and two children. "If you went away would there be any income?" asked Dr. Ball. "No," said Brewer. "All right," replied the doctor. "Go home and be happy."

F. C. Marzo, Placentia; last season manager of cannery putting up army orders of tomatoes. His two brothers are in partnership with him, and can carry on the business. "I don't care," he said. "I'd like to go." His claim was denied.

Dear Sir:—In reply to your inquiry will say that I am very much pleased with my investment in Palo Verde Valley. From the following you can readily see why I should be satisfied.

When I was in Kansas last fall I sold one of my farms which had been bringing me an annual cash rental of $2000. Out of this amount I had to pay taxes and up-keep. I have in the half section of Palo Verde land which I bought through you about $10,000 less money invested than I had in the Kansas farm. My Palo Verde land is bringing me $7200 cash rent per year. Deducting a liberal amount for taxes and water assessments my net income will be $6000 per year from this investment; or just three times the gross income from the Kansas investment. The rent from the Palo Verde land is more than 14 per cent on the investment per annum.

I fully expect my Palo Verde holdings to double in value during the next five years; while the Kansas farm sold for a price which was all that I could have expected from it for years to come.

I can very conscientiously recommend Palo Verde land as a safe and very profitable investment.

Yours very truly,

ALFRED HAWKINSON.

See me about Palo Verde Land at once.

CITY WILL FIGHT RATE INCREASE AT HEARING FEB. 14

Council Appoints Committee to Secure Expert to Value System, If Necessary

CITY COUNCIL IN BRIEF
Voted $5000 for Bristol street paving—about 40 per cent of the cost.
Raised wages of policemen $10 per month, firemen $5 per month, certain other city employees 25 cents per day.
Ordinance No. 630, calling a bridge bond election, given first reading.
Appointed committee to represent city at gas rate hearing.
Continued committee on Cubbon street opening, to investigate possible extension to Huntington Beach electric line tracks.
Dropped compensation insurance for city employees.

The Southern Counties Gas Company will not get by the Railroad Commission with its petition for an increase of rates in the Southern District, which embraces Santa Ana, without a protest from the city. W. L. Grubb, Trustees Tubbs and Greenleaf, Water Supt. Reid and City Attorney Scott were appointed a committee by the council last night to represent the city at the hearing to be held in Los Angeles on Thursday, Feb. 14, with power to secure the services of an expert in getting a valuation on the plant in this city, should it be deemed necessary to have such valuation.

If the company is granted the increase it asks for, it will have "slipped one over" on the city and have broken a pledge made to the city council by its president.

McPhee improved the opportunity last night to recapitulate the transactions and conditions under which the company secured its contract with the city for furnishing it with gas at the water works and the rate of 75 cents for domestic use.

"At the time the company changed from artificial to natural gas, we were assured by the president of the company that there would be no change in the price so long as he was president," declared McPhee. "We were considering the institution of a municipal service at the time, with an offer from Otis Birch to supply us with natural gas from his wells at Brea. Birch offered to supply us at 30 cents per 1000 cubic feet. O. B. Alderman and W. L. Grubb, who were members of the board at the time, were appointed a committee to make an investigation of the system of the company, which it was proposed to take over. The committee, if I remember correctly, found that the pipe system was in very bad condition. Because the city did not want to go to the expense of putting in a new system, and did not want to buy the old, the offer of Birch was turned down. The Southern Counties made us an offer of domestic gas at 75 cents per 1000 feet, and other rates for power, according to consumption, the president assuring us that there would be no increase so long as he was president and the natural gas supply held out. They told us that they had more gas than they could dispose of and were glad to get a contract with the city.

"We were induced to change from crude oil to gas for power at the water works, and the price to be based on the cost of operating with crude oil. A thirty-day test was made and a price of 15 cents per 1000 was agreed to. We were in position at that time to tie up on a contract for crude oil at 80 cents a barrel for a period of five years."

In discussions on the point as to the valuations of the plant upon which the proposed increase was asked for, Attorney Scott said that he had the petition of the company in his office, and that two supplemental valuations had been made to a valuation of the system made three years ago. The application covers the cities embraced in what is termed the southern district of the company, and the value of the plants in the different cities is not segregated, and therefore it was difficult to tell just what valuation was placed on the Santa Ana system. McPhee said at one time the Santa Ana office was handling the work of the Huntington Beach service and that the entire expense was charged up against the Santa Ana system.

Reid said that he had asked a member of the local office, who was in authority, as to the valuation of the system in this city and he had placed it at $1,000,000.

"I know that our water distributing system is worth three times that of the gas company, and a fair valuation on our system would be about $270,000. We have about 4000 service taps and I don't believe the gas company will exceed that number. The gas company will probably average $150 per month to the service, making the returns for Santa Ana about $8000 a month from domestic users, with the power users increasing that probably to $7500 to $8000 per month."

Salary Increases
In presenting the report of the committee appointed to investigate wages paid city employees, Trustee Tubbs declared that the police officers of the city received less wages for the hours and service they render than any of the other members of the committee, and they took the full salary list of appointive employees and went down the list and adjusted the salaries in proportion to the hours of service. They recommended that the four men at the fire hall be increased $5 per month each, that the seven policemen be advanced $10 each, and that the man in charge of the gas engine roller and a carpenter employed in the city water department be increased from $2.75 per day to $3 per day. The recommendation was adopted.

"We began our investigation by taking a full list of the employees and based our recommendation on the number of hours put in by the different men," said Tubbs. "The man who drives a wagon, or works on the street, puts in twenty-six 9-hour days a month, while the policemen work twelve hours a day for 31 days a month, the latter's pay being less than that of the former in proportion to the number of hours of service. The officers get $2.61 a day for 12 hours, while the other class of laborers get $2.75 for 9 hours. This makes the officers the poorest paid of any of the departments of the city. The fire boys also put in long hours."

"McPhee—I favor giving all the best wages we can afford. It costs just as much to feed a man who handles the shovel as the man who wears the star, and I would like to see all the men employed by the city raised. It costs a man something to live these days. I know I haven't had a new suit in three years and I am just one jump ahead of the sheriff."

Greenleaf believed that the policemen and firemen should have more pay because of their risk. Maryatt said he would like to see the policemen paid $100 per month.

All the councilmen practically agreed that employees of the city were paid less than those in other cities of the same size. McPhee finally moved that the employees not covered by the report of Tubbs be increased 25 cents a day. After a lengthy discussion of points as to the merit of paying the street laborer as much or more per hour than some of the skilled labor, the motion was voted down, with the understanding that a committee would be appointed to go over the wage schedule and report back to the council with recommendations. Tubbs and McPhee were appointed. About twenty-one men will benefit by McPhee's suggestions if they are given the 25-cent raise, and the total increase for these will be about $1600 a year.

Will Pay 40 Per Cent

The city council members feel better this morning. The Bristol street matter is off their minds and they have settled the question in a manner which they deem eminently fair to all parties concerned. They voted to pay $5000 of the expense of improving the street from Fifth street south to the city limits. The appropriation is about 40 per cent of the cost. The vote on the motion to allow this sum was not unanimous. Greenleaf not voting and Maryatt qualifying his vote in favor. McPhee made the motion and Tubbs seconded, the motion stipulating that the $5000 be taken from the fund created by the 20 per cent levy. Greenleaf did not vote, because he has taken the position all along that the city should pay 50 per cent of the cost.

"I am in the minority," said Greenleaf. "I can't see where the improvement to the property will justify the expense to the owners. The owners have not petitioned for the improvement, and it has been our custom to demand petitions with 60 or 70 per cent of the frontage signed for paving. It is the city that is demanding the paving of the street and the city as a whole should bear at least 50 per cent of the cost."

Visel—"We feel the city should help out. We are trying to connect with a county highway leading to the district south and east of town."

"Greenleaf—I own considerable property in the city and I am willing that it should be taxed for the improvement."

McPhee—"I cannot see the justice of voting 50 per cent. The owners of property are not required to put in sidewalks and curbs, and they are required only to pay 60 per cent."

McPhee's motion to appropriate $5000 included that the property owners should pay by the front foot. The pavement will be twenty feet wide, and that total cost will be about $40 per 50-foot lot.

A New Subdivision

L. L. Shaw, of the real estate firm of Shaw & Russell, appeared before the board in reference to the opening of Cubbon street from Main to Orange avenue. They recently purchased a five-acre tract from Mortenson & Langer, lying between Cypress and Orange, and have had it subdivided. Shaw said that those interested in the opening intended to purchase two lots between Main and Cypress and expected he and his partner to donate two lots between Cypress and Orange. He said the firm could not afford to do that, as the tract was a small one. They had to readjust their plat to meet with conditions if the street is opened. He thought the street should be opened east as far as the P. E. line to Huntington Beach. He offered to sign an agreement to hold for one year the two lots that would be effected in case the street was opened, and to sell them at a nominal price for street purposes. He set the price for the two at $750, and agreed to sidewalk and curb lots on both sides of the street.

W. J. Julien is active in the movement to open the street and in a statement to the board a few weeks ago he said that the street could be opened if the council would agree not to order sidewalks and curbs in under three years. On Tubbs' motion, the city clerk was instructed to notify Julien that if the street is opened, sidewalks and curbs would be ordered in at once. McPhee and Tubbs, the committee on opening, was continued and will make further investigation, particularly with reference to extending the street through to the P. E. tracks.

Bridge Bonds

Ordinance No. 630, calling a special election for bridge bonds, was read for the first time and referred to the city attorney. The issue is for $35,000 for the Main street structure and $7,700 for North Flower (Hannah) street.

The ballots will carry the two propositions separately so that the voter can express himself on each of them.

Canceled Insurance

Tubbs and Greenleaf, as a committee, recommended that the city cancel compensation insurance carried with the state.

"There are too many conditions attached to the insurance," said Tubbs, "and it is impossible for the city to live up to them. We are compelled to take out a policy with the state, if we carry this character of insurance. If we could deal with a private company we could get a more satisfactory policy."

Minor Action

Reports of fire chief, building inspector, city recorder and city marshal were received and filed.

Committee on widening Walnut street and extending Barton south from First to Camille, granted more time in which to make report.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Give Fruit Laxative at Once

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company,"—Adv.

J. G. Robertson, electrician, granted permission to erect electric signs at 303 North Main and 103 East Third.

Millard Foster and Scott Prather, operating a jitney line between this city and Tustin, were given a permit for one year. The period of the permit was not included in action taken on the application a week ago and the railroad commission called attention to the omission.

The Standard Plumbing Company of Los Angeles filed a request for a plumbing permit for one year, accompanied by a bond. Referred to committee composed of McPhee and Greenleaf. The application indicates that the company expects to operate from its office in Los Angeles and do business in the city. The committee will investigate. It develops that the license ordinance, as far as it covers plumbers, does not provide adequate license fee for an outside firm.

Mrs. J. W. Sackman, as secretary of the playgrounds committee, filed a report of the operation of the grounds two months this summer. The school board donated the grounds at Lincoln school and Poly High. Financial contributions included $150 from the city, $50 from the M. and M. and $5 from the Ebell. The average attendance at Lincoln during July was 45 and in August 39. At the Poly grounds the average attendance in July was 28 and in August 42. It was recommended that the playgrounds be made a permanent feature.

"Father and Son Week," planned for celebration all over the United States, and a time which has been set aside especially for patriotic demonstrations by the Young Men's Christian Associations of the world, will be observed by the members of the clubs in this county. The dates of this week are Feb. 10 to 17.

Many of the clubs of the county are arranging to carry out a celebration of this week in their own organizations. It will not be celebrated as a county affair as was first thought possible, but each club will take the matter up in the way it deems best.

It is understood that it is likely President Wilson will proclaim this week officially as "Father and Son week." The pastors of the various churches are being asked to preach upon some phase of the movement on Sunday, Feb. 17. Some of the clubs are making preparations to hold a banquet during the week when the boys will entertain their fathers. At the first Baptist church in this city some such celebration will be carried out. It is understood with the boys as hosts, and the parents of boys who have already gone into the service of the country as special guests.

The Invincible club of Wintersburg is planning a banquet. Some clubs will merely invite their parents to visit their meeting during the week.

The Father and Son idea originated some few years ago in the Young Men's Christian Association in the East, and since its inception it has spread all over the world wherever Young Men's Christian Associations are known.

SANTA ANA—SAFE, SANE

It is with feelings of confidence, security and satisfaction that we note the success of Santa Ana's tourist hotel enterprise.

Not merely that we are to have the long-wanted and much-needed hotel, and that the enterprise has been economically and safely financed; not merely that tourist travel and industrial development insure the success of the hotel as a permanent and continuous going business of large proportions; not merely that the civic pride and business progressiveness of the city have again been vindicated; but, bigger and better than all these, that Santa Ana has proved her safety and sanity.

Many communities, even with Santa Ana's relatively enormous material resources and available or fluid wealth, might easily have been frightened by war conditions and demands into an ultra-conservative attitude that would have defeated the hotel proposition.

Not so, Santa Ana. She knows her strength and how to use it. She does not lose her head, nor her sense of proportion, nor her powers of discrimination.

To go ahead with the hotel was good business and fine patriotism. Every dollar that will go into the hotel will come from the pockets and bank accounts of men of ample or large wealth and go into the pockets and bank accounts of people of small wealth. Those of large wealth will not have their power to support the war impaired in the least, while those of small wealth will have their power to support the war greatly increased; and at the same time and by the same means the business prosperity of the whole community will be healthily enhanced.

On the same right principle and wise policy Santa Ana will vote the bridge bonds—an actual public necessity—encourage and assist new enterprises, and in general go right ahead in growth, progress and prosperity, meanwhile doing her full share in every way to hold up the hands of Uncle Sam in his big fight for world democracy and human freedom.

BECAUSE WE LIVE NOW

Fifty years from now our children will be honoring those who have fought this war by erecting statues in their memory, holding memorial services, having parades, and placing flowers on their graves. It will be the only opportunity left them of showing their gratitude to those who sacrificed their all that this country might enjoy peace and democracy.

But we of this generation have by far a greater privilege than this. Ours is the honor and privilege to fight side by side with these gallant soldiers, though three thousand miles separate us from them. While they pour their heart's blood on the battlefield that "the world may be made safe for democracy," the rest of us can pour out our energies in service none the less freely and effectively by saving food.

A few years ago the American housewife was criticised, and perhaps justly so, as being the most extravagant and wasteful housewife in the world. But the American woman has never been one to shrink before responsibility. She realizes now that it is in her power to keep the wolf from the world's door. Because of the constantly decreasing production of Europe and the insufficient shipping facilities, the world must look more and more to America's larder for its maintenance.

And the American woman, not the American government, is the keeper of this larder. Because the American Housekeeper knows if she uses as much wheat, meat, fats, and sugar as she has been in the habit of using, there will be nothing left in the larder with which the housekeeper in other parts of the world can feed their families, she is bending her energies to economizing on these foods.

This is her duty to her country, this is the proud privilege of every woman, because she lives now and has the opportunity to do something of vital helplessness to the soldiers, instead of waiting until after they are dead before showing her gratitude for their sacrifices.

TAKE OVER EXPRESS COMPANIES

There is talk of the government taking over the express companies. Some of the companies themselves are said to favor it. They have not been making their customary profits lately, and foresee important benefits from government control, while their lot may become harder if they continue operating independently.

It is argued that it would be a perfectly natural thing to join the express companies up with the federal railroad system. There is no doubt about that.

The separate existence of express companies has always been an anomaly in American business. They have never fulfilled any function that the railroads themselves could not have taken care of equally well, and perhaps at smaller cost. They have been a sort of excrescence on our transportation system. They owned no railroad lines. They had to pay railroads to haul the goods they handled. They did not even have many cars. Their property has always consisted mostly of officers and "good will."

They have been a capitalized monopoly, existing by grace of the railroads and the government. For years they capitalized their monopoly too high, and charged too much for their services, until the government was forced to step in, abolish their monopoly by introducing parcel post competition, and regulate their rates and methods.

If the government is to continue in charge of the railroads for any considerable time, it might as well take over the express companies. Their merging with the railroads sooner or later is inevitable. If the government comes to own the railroads, as it may one of these days, the express companies will probably vanish immediately. Only their functions will survive, as part of the public transportation service.

REDUCE CONTROL TO AN INDUSTRIAL BASIS PLEADS WADSWORTH

ers who appeared before the committee gathered that there was lack of comprehension of the manufacturers' problem on the part of official Washington. Lack of co-ordination and inability to reach prompt decision; in fact, the system itself was faulty in the extreme.

Wadsworth declared that able civilians who were called in to assist and who had watched the working of the war machinery for months said the defects which members of the committee suspected existed.

"Some of them had suggested one or more remedies, one or more improvements and all their suggestions are in the same direction—proper centralization of authority, an authority established, preferably by statute, whose decisions may be promptly reached and accepted as final," said Wadsworth.

BROODING CAUSES MAN TO KILL THEN SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Two years of brooding over the death of his sweetheart, Mrs. Ellmore Caretti, who had been a patient of Dr. W. E. Buell, led Felice Prato to kill Dr. Buell at the Union Iron Works Hospital, according to theories of the police today.

A picture of Mrs. Caretti stained with Prato's blood, found on Prato after the killing, was identified at a photograph gallery in the Italian quarter and then from friends of Mrs. Caretti the details were secured.

Mrs. Caretti was taken ill and, her friends say, paid $500 to Dr. Buell for treatment. Prato maintained, after the woman's death, that Dr. Buell had taken the money wrongfully and a court action for its recovery was instituted but later dismissed.

Evidently Prato, who was once a sergeant in the Italian army, meditated long on "vendetta" before finally going to the hospital and killing Dr. Buell. Prato, himself, died early today of self-inflicted wounds, having fired a bullet into his own temple.

PRETTY 17 YEAR OLD GIRL GETS UNTANGLED

OAKLAND, Feb. 5.—The matrimonial tangle in which pretty 17 year old Edna Metcalf of Oakland involved herself, was on the way towards being disentangled today.

Her mother was appointed Miss Metcalf's guardian and immediately three marriage annulment proceedings were started. Her marriage to Yeoman Edward Reese, U. S. N., is asked to be annulled on the grounds that Miss Metcalf was under age, while she was her marriages to her second and third husbands, Jack Overstreet, U. S. M. C., and Louis Linkswsky, U. S. N., declared void because she had a husband living.

Bud Flivver's Observations

 I was tired—And went to bed early—And everything was quiet—And I was busy—Going to sleep—
 And Mrs. Flivver—Called and asked me—Had I put the pup out—And I hadn't—And I got up—And did—
 And just when—I got warm—And was getting ready—To doze off—Into peaceful slumbers—She woke me again—
 And she said—There was a fellow—At the front door—And he wanted to know—If I knew where George Trister lives—
 And I told her—To tell him—I thought Trister—Was dead—And I didn't know—Where he lived—
 And I didn't care—Where anybody lived—Just so they would—All go to bed—And let me alone—
 And I got up—And tucked the quilts—Down at the foot—
 So my heels—Wouldn't get cold—
 And I bundled up—And counted sheep—And every thing—And tried to—Get sleepy again—
 And when I—Had counted—About all the sheep—In the county—And was thinking—Of counting the cows—
 Mrs. Flivver came to the door—And she asked me—Was I asleep—And I asked her—What was the matter now—
 And she said—The cat was—Acting funny—And she thought—It was going to—Have a fit—And what should she do—
 And just when—I was telling her—To give it—A dose of catnip—There was a knock—On the window—
 And I asked—Who was it—And he said—It was Mose Miller—And he said—He didn't go—To the door—Because he didn't—Want to—Make me get up—
 And he asked me—Could he borrow—The auto pump—And a pair of pliers—In the morning—Before I got up—
 And I told him—To just go ahead—And take the—Whole garage—And everything—Just so I could sleep—
 And he said—Oh, was you—Trying to sleep?—And I said—Oh, no—I just went to bed—To count my—Liberty bonds—And thrift stamps—
 And after this—I'm not going to bed—Until everybody else—In town—Is sound asleep—By Bud.

ALTOGETHER!—"OVER THE TOP" TO VICTORY!

"We entered this war because violations of right had occurred which touched us to the quick and made the life of our own people impossible unless they were corrected and the world secure once for all against their recurrence."—PRESIDENT WILSON.

When soldiers go "over the top" to charge the enemy there must be absolute unity of action.

Each must support the other. If but one man holds back he weakens the line.

And if even but a few of them advance in a half-hearted, disinterested way, the charge is likely to fail. It is, therefore, not sufficient merely to "charge."

Each man must "charge" with all his might, putting his whole soul and strength in the effort. This is the only road to victory.

Our entire nation is now going "over the top."

It is "charging" in mortal combat a most powerful, highly organized and unified enemy. If we are to win, unity of action and grim determination is absolutely essential.

Those citizens who hold back, those who "charge" without spirit, enthusiasm and a single unflinching purpose to win at all cost, seriously imperil the whole line.

Remember that the nation which stops to bicker and quarrel over details and to nag its leaders while going "over the top" is almost sure to lose.

Criticism of our national war methods and measures should be in a friendly tone, constructive in character, and free from partisan prejudice or enmity.

It should also be tempered with full appreciation of the difficulties encountered and of the fact that we have had to prepare for war from the ground up.

Do not question the motive or wisdom of our people in entering this war. The decision has been made. We must abide by it and loyally support it with all our strength. To fail in this is seditious and in a sense treasonable.

Therefore, see that your friends get in tune with our country's purpose.

We must "line up" for work at home as loyally and efficiently as our brave soldiers are lining up on the battle front. Let us go "over the top" with our country to victory heartily, cheerfully and enthusiastically.

—From the Equitable Public Bulletin, published monthly by the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

R. R. COMMISSION NOT IN FAVOR DUPLICATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Condemnation of any duplication of track by the railroads was voiced today by the state railroad commission.

The commission's views were expressed in a ruling dismissing the petition of San Jose to force the Southern and Western Pacific railroads to maintain a terminal in San Jose.

The commission characterized the building of the Western Pacific's line from Miles to Milpitas as wasteful duplication and then scored the Southern Pacific for its refusal to enter a joint trackage agreement permitting the Western Pacific to enter San Jose.

The commission declared that if the government owned the railroads no consideration would be given to projects embodying "wasteful duplication."

WOMAN SPEAKER TOMORROW AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Eleanor Garmo Will Address Merchants on Thrift Stamps

Mrs. Eleanor Garmo, who is to address the merchants at tomorrow's luncheon, will be the first woman speaker to speak at the regular weekly function. She is an enthusiastic advocate of investment in thrift stamps and war certificates and this will be her subject tomorrow. She is advertising manager for the Los Angeles Trust and Savings bank and the bank is giving her service in boosting the campaign.

She has a fund of information on the general war situation and imparts it in a most entertaining and interesting manner. Bry Williams, cashier of the First National Bank, is chairman this week. It is expected that James Gold Room will be packed tomorrow, and those who have not yet secured tickets for the luncheon should not neglect this important feature.

At the luncheon three weeks ago it was decided that during February those attending should have tickets. A ticket for the four luncheons of February costs $2. Should the attendance be beyond the seating capacity, those with tickets will be given preference. The purchase of a ticket in advance, however, is not absolutely necessary, except that it would entitle the holder to a seat at the tables should the attendance exceed the accommodations.

FATE WORKLESS HOLIDAY RESTS IN BALANCES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Workless Mondays are to be continued indefinitely. This was the unofficial admission of the fuel administration following a conference today between Secretary McAdoo and Fuel Administrator Garfield.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Fate of the workless Monday probably will be decided today. Armed with data regarding the fuel transportation saving effected by the workless holiday, Fuel Administrator Garfield and Director General McAdoo were expected to go into conference this afternoon to thresh out the matter of lifting the Monday closing rule.

It is known that McAdoo is pressing hard to have the closing order lifted. Commercial interests generally, especially large department stores, have been insistent that the closing order be revoked so far as their business is concerned. To do this, Dr. Garfield has maintained, would demoralize the whole operation of the closing scheme. It is possible that a compromise will be reached whereby the freight embargo will be continued and perhaps even extended, thus enabling the fuel administration to lift its workless Monday order without throwing additional burden on the overloaded national railroad. Almost complete demoralization of traffic for the last 24 hours in eastern United States, especially in the northern part, has made it almost certain that the freight embargo cannot be lifted immediately. Trains are snowed in along Lake Erie. Livestock feed and other supplies are being rushed into New England in response to appeals from local food administrators there. Cotton factories in New England are clamoring for coal and threatening complete shutdown unless coal is rushed. Many of these plants are employed on uniform cloth.

EAST SUFFERS UNDER FRIGID TEMPERATURE

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—New York suffered another blast of below zero temperature today. Street thermometers showed temperatures ranging from four to seven degrees below. Clear weather and continued cold was forecast.

PROMISED WARMER FOR TOMORROW

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Following five successive sub zero days, the weather man today promised Chicago warmer weather tonight and Wednesday.

16 DEGREES BELOW TODAY IN DETROIT

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 5.—Detroit shivered today in a temperature of 16 below zero, with the fuel supply practically exhausted and no relief in sight. Five schools closed this morning and the city gas company has but two days' supply of coal. Many large plants expect to close down tonight. Serious suffering is reported in many homes.

NORTHERN TRAIN SERVICE CRIPPLED

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 5.—Train service on the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk was demoralized today due to a heavy snowfall and a 40 degree drop in temperature to 18 below. Snow was drifted upon the tracks, tying up traffic.

Mrs. Lida Ruddock Given a Pleasant Surprise at Fullerton Home by Friends

The Eastern Star friends of Mrs. Lida Ruddock of 211 West Wilshire avenue, Fullerton, rendered her a pleasant surprise Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. John Hayter of Hollywood, house guests of Mrs. Ruddock, took her on a motor trip to Santa Ana, her former home, where the three took luncheon. About 2 o'clock they returned to find Mrs. Ruddock's home artistically decorated and more than forty of her friends in possession of the house. These friends were principally past matrons of the Order of the Eastern Star, some twenty from Santa Ana chapter, of which Mrs. Ruddock formerly was a member, and ten from the Fullerton chapter.

During the afternoon Mrs. John Gardiner sang two solos, and at the close of the festivities rendered "The End of a Perfect Day." Mrs. Grace Ford entertained with reading two interesting selections.

The surprise, which was in honor of Mrs. Ruddock's birthday, was planned by her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Oswald of West Commonwealth avenue, and was a very delightful affair.

Following the enjoyment of an appetizing dinner, the time was spent in social conversation and auto-driving.

Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Mattison and daughter of Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bicknis, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Spencer and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Scott and children, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Wheeling.

Edith Rachel Carnahan Becomes Bride of George W. Carey at Pretty Ceremony

Carey, plighted their troth on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on North Sycamore street, the ceremony being witnessed by about twenty intimate friends and relatives of the high contracting parties.

A profusion of fragrant white carnations, cool-leaved ferns and potted plants transformed the rooms into bowers of beauty in anticipation of the interesting event and preceding the nuptials, Miss Louise Calhoun beautifully rendered "I Love You Truly," Miss Marian Calhoun accompanying softly on the piano, then Miss Louise Calhoun took her place and struck the thrilling strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, as the young couple passed through two graceful archways of Shasta daisies and fern and took their stand beneath a bell fashioned of the same snowy blooms.

Rev. A. F. Roadhouse of the First Christian church was the officiating clergyman. The bride was lovely in her clinging gown of white crepe de chine with a misty wedding veil moored to the head with waxen orange blossoms and carrying a magnificent shower of Bride roses, Roman hyacinths and lacy maiden hair fern.

Following a shower of hearty congratulations and viewing of the display of costly wedding gifts, a delicious collation was attractively served. Mrs. James Henry and Miss Louise Calhoun assisting the bride's mother. The bride made the first incision in the handsome cake.

When the happy pair escaped in the midst of rice and good wishes to catch the Santa Fe for San Francisco, the bride was charming in a natty traveling suit of gray with shoes to match and chic white satin hat. They will return by boat and their many friends are planning to give them a rousing welcome for they are happy to learn that they will make their future home in Santa Ana where both are well known and highly respected. PASS-KEY ARTIST
ACTIVE LAST NIGHT, SAYS
MARSHAL

Believed to Have Attempted Two Jobs in Opposite Parts of City

The pass-key thief who has been working in the city recently is believed to have attempted two jobs last night. Mrs. Kelly, proprietor of the Lyric Theater, at her residence at 215 Cypress avenue last night thought she saw a burglar standing near her door. She and her daughter both saw a man standing near the house as they came out the door. He seemed to be attempting to hide. The man first was discovered by the daughter, and she informed her mother. She then ran out of the house and across the street to the home of E. B. Trago, calling Trago for assistance. Mrs. Kelly says she heard the click of a pistol as she passed the man. Of this she is positive. Trago could not see the man, but going to the residence heard a rustling of leaves in the back yard. City Marshal Jernigan was called and when he got there he found a crippled man lying on a bed of leaves in the back yard. The cripple gave the name of John Recovitch, and he was taken into custody. The marshal found footprints in the yard which indicated that a man had passed by the side of the house and into the back yard. Jernigan does not believe the tracks could have been made by the cripple. Mrs. Kelly's house was entered some time yesterday afternoon, but so far as she could determine nothing was taken. It has been only a few months since Mrs. Kelly went home in the evening after the show and found a man hidden in her house. Jernigan believes that someone who is familiar with Mrs. Kelly's business and believes that she keeps large sums of money in the house is responsible for the many attempts at robbery.

Leonard Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Warner, 1417 North Main street, is positive that he heard a man trying to unlock a door at their home about 4 o'clock this morning. The man made two attempts. Warner was not sufficiently sure that a burglar was at the door to warrant him in calling the officers. He got out of bed twice but saw no one. The second time, however, he thought he heard a man run across the front lawn.

ARE UPON WIND-UP FOR PLEDGES MADE IN RED CROSS DRIVE

About $1500 Still to Come In, Mostly In Small Subscriptions

This morning Fred Rafferty, chairman of the finance committee of the Santa Ana Red Cross, held a meeting of the Red Cross drive committee at which members of the committee were assigned collections upon pledges for contribution to the first Red Cross war fund.

The collections were made through Los Angeles until recently, when a list of those who had not paid was turned over to the local chairman. Rafferty sent out notices and got in $500. It is expected that the calls by committeemen will bring in a goodly portion of the remainder.

There are instances of signers of pledge cards who have moved away, and a very few have died since the pledges were given. Most of those who have not paid have evidently failed to do so for no other reason than that they have neglected to send their checks.

Red Cross Activities

By Their Colors

When I went into the department store to buy some yellow wool to knit myself a sweater I saw a crowd of excited women surging about a counter.

"What is it?" I asked a saleswoman. "Bargains?"

"No," she said. "It is where they are selling the army and navy wool."

"Yellow," I murmured guiltily and sneaked out with my parcel.

On the way home in the train to the suburban town where I live I put in the time knitting on a khaki colored muffler, which I wanted to finish so that I could start work on my lovely yellow sweater.

A young soldier sat beside me and encouraged by a friendly smile, he said:

"It's good to see you ladies working for us. It's getting pretty cold these days, especially for the boys in the tents and the others out all hours guarding bridges and aqueducts and munition plants. Gee, they'll be mighty glad for all the warm things you good ladies are knitting"—and he thanked me earnestly. He, a soldier in khaki, giving his life to our country, thanked me for putting in a little of my spare time in pleasant work!

Thank heaven he could not see the yellow wool in my parcel. How could I have thought for a moment I could work on it! I might just as well carry a banner with "Slacker" on it in large letters, as knit on bright colors these days. The yellow wool would proclaim to all the world, "This is for myself! I am going to keep warm this winter. I am going to wear pretty clothes and our sailors and soldiers may go cold for all I care!"

I made up my mind then and there that I would devote every spare moment I had to knitting for the army and navy, and when I got home I hid that parcel of yellow wool in the bottom of an old trunk and there it shall remain until the war ends.—Isobel Field of the Vigilantes.

'DOLLY DIMPLES' PERSONNEL TO MAKE COMEDY SUCCESSFUL

Many Local People Known For Ability on Stage In Character Roles

The cast of characters as announced by those having the Elks' benefit show, "Miss Dolly Dimples," to be given Thursday and Friday evenings at the Grand, in charge, is sufficient to assure those who attend a fine program. It includes some of the favorites of the stage seen here in former amateur performances, and some of the best local talent will participate. In addition to the personnel element of the characters, the fact that the play is full of music and comedy will make it more than interesting.

The leading role of "Dolly" will be taken by Mrs. Florence Thayer McClay. Mrs. McClay has been seen on the local stage many times in the past and her work has proven her ability. With her acting comes as second nature.

Others who will delight in the three-act musical play are:

Jack and Betty, who think they can find the rainbow and the imaginary "pot of gold," Robert Chapman and Eleanor Mitchell.

Mr. De Parks, American Ambassador, William F. Menton.

Mrs. De Parks, his wife, Alma Bab-bitt.

Bess, who undertakes to chaperone Dolly and regards her task as a thankless bit of foolishness, Adeline Hill.

The real count, H. Shuster, Count Trevel, Lloyd Babbitt, Dr. Granville, in love with Dolly, Roy Peterson.

Wizard of Oz, Dr. Rositter, Will Bill Williams, "Doc" Barnes, Sugetti, a maid—Gertrude Potts.

The Dago, Joe C. Burke.

BIG RUSH FROM EAST IS SEEN BY SPEAKER

McDannald, Lecturer, Takes Easterners to the Beach Poultry Show

Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 4, 1918. I am not sure but that it would embarrass your credulity if I told you the actual number of strangers coming here every day seeking reliable information concerning the sunny southland. I discussed it with Mr. Wiggins the other day, and we both agreed this was a banner year for home-seekers. He said the chamber had received more inquiries by mail and wire, in the last forty-eight hours than during any previous month since this institution was established. They are coming, not as they used to come, individually and undecided, but they are here with a singleness of purpose, a home where winds sing softer melodies, and the leaf is never sad, where they can drown the memories of the raging blizzard, and the terrors of the breaking ice gorge, in liberal libations of nepenthe.

Seek Information Some of them are real gullions for information, and to answer all questions intelligently, one's mind must be a storehouse, filled to the attic.

I have at least thirty persons on my waiting list, anxious to visit Orange county. They are representative citizens from many different states, and sections. Fearing I might wear my welcome to a feather edge, I have not escorted as many strangers over the county as I would have liked to do, or as I think would have been prudent.

A couple from Pana, Ill., who have not been traveling long in double harness, beguiled me away from my booth today, and we are at the seashore watching the wavelets play.

W. D. Seeley, a good Samaritan of the manufacturing seaside city of Huntington Beach, loaded us into a chug wagon with paint all aglow and burned up about a barrel of explosive liquid in showing us a section of country so rich in fertility and so long in the making that time has forgotten to record the years. This Pana man said it gave him a pain to compare the returns of these rich lands with the choicest prairie acres in Illinois.

We visited the big oil cloth factory, where the choicest grades of this household necessity are made—that is, when they can get the raw material.

Seeing the Town When we drove around the beautiful $60,000 grammar school, the bride said in soothing accents: "Where did they get the money to do it? Pana is a town of 7000 population, and last year when the school trustees asked for money to replace a broken window pane, it almost precipitated a riot."

We visited the poultry show, then in the zenith of a three days free exhibition, and I am frank to admit I would not care to put in print some of the exclamations of astonishment I heard those strangers make. We saw eggs, baskets full of real eggs, such as we used to have on our Berrydale farm. I picked one up, and cupped it with a feeling almost akin to reverence, but the severe looking guard, in burnished uniform saved me from committing a felony.

Mrs. E. M. Franklin, our genial guide, gave me a list of the fowls on display, and, so help me Andy Johnson, I believe they double tracked me. In other words, I think they handed me a foul deck. In one coop, the lady pointed out a bird she said had come over in the Mayflower. His name was "Andalusian." When asked to explain his youthful appearance, she said it was all due to Orange county's exhilarating climate, and the long periods between showers.

I saw a little brown Bantam strutting around in his latted coop, with as much sangfroid as the big Shanghai across the aisle, and in another corner of the room sweet voiced canaries flitted through a miniature forest, and mingled his cadence with the guttural sounds of the parrot, across the way: Ducks of many breeds, and turkeys as large as—well, I am not going to tell you how big they were, for fear you accuse me of fracturing one of the Commandments.

Praises the Show Our lady guide informed us the response for exhibits had been spontaneous and cheerful, and another year would see the list materially lengthened, but here I have misgivings. During the past seventy-five or hundred years, it has been my good fortune to evade the gate keeper at a great many poultry shows, here, there and elsewhere, and I am going to make a statement and with it stake my reputation as a man of unquestioned veracity, that seldom have I seen, even at a state, or national poultry show a better collection of well bred birds than are exhibited here.

The "Hustlers" of Huntington Beach are certainly marvels of thrift and thoroughness, and anything they undertake to do, is done well, and in behalf of our Sucker friends, whose inborn modesty prevents them from lifting an appreciative voice, I thank you.

D. W. McDANNALD, Orange County Lecturer at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

ARE SIGNING UP FOR SHIPYARD EMPLOYMENT

Lack of Supplies Has Prevented All Registrars From Receiving Blanks

In the scanty a number of men signed up today for service in the United States shipyards reserve forces. These men will be subject to call for work in shipyards.

Walter A. Craig, painter, A. C. Chapman and C. W. Tinsley, carpenters, were the first to enroll at the office of the sheriff, where Miss Onal Davis is receiving shipyard registrations.

Judge West, president of the county council of defense, stated today that he has not yet received enough blanks to supply all of the registrars that have been appointed. However, many of the registrars are supplied, and registration has started.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN'S BODY LIES IN STATE

Former World's Heavyweight Champion In Final Rest Seen By Many Friends

BY H. C. HAMILTON (United Press Staff Correspondent) BOSTON, Feb. 5.—In a mahogany casket with wreaths of flowers almost completely hiding his last couch, the body of John L. Sullivan, former heavyweight champion, lay in state today at the home of his sister, Mrs. Annie E. Lennon.

A steady stream of men, women and children eazed on the peaceful features of the old gladiator until a late hour last night. More were present early today.

Sullivan was dressed in a full dress suit. On the glistening mahogany of the casket there was a silver name plate, bearing the inscription "John L. Sullivan."

Arrangements have not been completed for the funeral. Only a few of the men at first selected have been able to attend as pall bearers and honorary pall bearers. Colonel Roosevelt, invited to be one of the latter, was forced to decline. He sent a message from his home in Oyster Bay. Other honorary pall bearers will be James J. Corbett, the man who wrestled the heavyweight title from Sullivan; Billy Muldoon, famous as a trainer; former Mayor Curley of Boston; Miah J. Murray, Police Captain James P. Sullivan and other local celebrities.

REGISTERING AT POLY FOR 2ND TERM WORK

Enrollment Will Be Higher; New Courses Added For Spring Semester

Registration is under way at the high school this week for the second semester which commences next Monday. Increased enrollment is expected and new courses will be offered for the spring term.

The seniors registered yesterday, juniors are registering today and the sophomores and freshmen will register Wednesday and Thursday. Students entering from other schools may register Friday.

It is stated at the high school today that about sixty new students are expected to enter. This will bring the total enrollment of the school up to about $50.

It is already known that four new students plan to enter the junior college, which brings the registration of this institution up to sixty-two.

One of the new and interesting courses which is to be presented this coming term, open to seniors only, is a course in journalism. A pre-requisite for this course is three years of English. The school paper, The Generator, will be used as the means of expression for this class and will be under the supervision of Miss Johnson, who will direct the work in journalism.

Another course added this semester and also open especially for seniors, is that of Normal Review. It is the design of this course to give a thorough review covering six weeks each in arithmetic, grammar and geography, and is designed especially for those who are expecting to go to Normal school or to prepare for the profession of a teacher, but it will be open to all seniors.

HEN BERRY MAY SELL SAN FRANCISCO TEAM

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—The San Francisco Seals may be in the hands of new owners before the week is out. Rumors, which have been circulating in sporting circles for several weeks reached a climax today when Henry Berry, Seal owner, admitted that negotiations for transfer of ownership of the Coast League franchise and club have progressed favorably so far.

"But I am still doubtful whether the sale will be made," he added, "as it will involve a large money transaction."

Berry would give no intimation as to the identity of the prospective new owner or owners. It was reported, however, that Tip O'Neill, former president of the Western League and Danmy Long, former manager of the Seals, were negotiating. If this be true, it probably means that Charles W. Comiskey, of the Chicago White Sox, is backing them financially.

Another report is that a certain Southern California sporting man, whose name has not been revealed, is seeking to gain control of the club. Henry Berry has been owner of the Seals since 1914.

FIGHTING MAKES SAMMIES CRY FOR REVENGE

Baptism of Fire Whetted Appetites For More of Same Brand of War

BY J. W. PEGLER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Feb. 4.—(Delayed.)—The American army is hungry for revenge today. The baptism of big shells the Sammies received Saturday night just whetted their appetites for more.

Those who were wounded in the artillery duel are most anxious for more fighting. Many of them, after they had been hit during the height of the encounter, refused to leave their places on the trench firing step. They waited there in eagerness, hoping the boches would come over. No Man's Land. They remained on the firing step until certain the enemy had given up all hope of attacking.

This brand of heroism was apparent all during the engagement. When German shells cut the communication wires, American dispatch runners repeatedly attempted to penetrate the enemy barrage. With splendid disregard for their own safety, they took their lives in their hands again and again in their efforts to fight their way through the rain of shells.

One New York Sammy was knocked from a ration wagon by a direct hit. His wagon was demolished, his mules were hurt and the soldier was sent spinning. As soon as the New Yorker was sure he had no wounds, he rounded up the frantic mules and calmly shoed them on to headquarters.

THE BEST OPERATORS ARE REDHEADED GIRLS

"Sunny dispositions, efficiency, staying qualities, even tempers." All these qualities and virtues are claimed for red-headed girls, and a certain gentleman believing that such a claim had reason and experience behind it, advertised for a red-headed girl to work a telephone switchboard. His experience commenced as soon as the advertisement appeared, and they would make a good movie scenario. One hundred and fifty girls applied for the job, their tresses ranging from scarlet to maroon, from russet to ruby red. One girl with jet black hair had the audacity to declare that her head had been a mass of red curls, and they "were sure to come back."

"I wanted a red-headed girl," said the advertiser. "I find such a one more efficient than a dark girl; she can stay at her post a long time and answer the switchboard without getting peeved." He got the kind he wanted.—F. P. in Vancouver World.

ACIDS IN STOMACH SOUR THE FOOD AND CAUSE INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Fixes Sour, Gassy, Upset Stomachs In Five Minutes

You don't know what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin to neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened, and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops food souring and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is truly astonishing. Your stomach will digest your meals if you keep acids neutralized.—Adv.

PERSONAL AND SOCIETY
NEWS NOTES FROM
ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, Feb. 5.—The marriage of Sylvia Gregg of Whittier to Earl Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Murray of El Modena, was solemnized Saturday at 3 o'clock at the ranch of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gregg.

The Gregg home, which is near Whittier, is called the Sydnor. The bride was the daughter of a well-known ranchman. The wedding was a very simple affair with the exception of a profusion of white sweet peas, sunflowers and ferns. Two baskets filled with ferns and white flowers and an arch of smilax and white sweet peas formed a background for the bride and groom. The bride was wearing a white gown and veil. She carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and maiden hair ferns.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edwin McGruen, pastor of the Friends church of Whittier. There were about sixty guests present, including the immediate members of both families. Mr. and Mrs. Murray, Aaron Huddleston, Elwood Paddock and family, Owen Murray and family were present from here.

Immediately after the bride had thrown her bouquet in a shower of rice and good wishes the young couple left on a short honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will make their home in El Modena on South Alameda street. The groom, who will graduate from Whittier College in June, will continue his studies.

The Lemon street Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, February 6, at 3 o'clock. A patriotic program has been planned consisting of songs and drills by the pupils, a reading by Mrs. W. R. Garrett and vocal solos by F. L. Chapline and Miss Martha Cradick. Mr. Garrett will give a talk on teaching patriotism to our children. Announcements concerning the First Aid class will be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Summers went to Los Angeles yesterday morning. Mr. Summers will go to the Methodist Hospital where he will undergo an operation. The operation is necessary because of injuries received in an auto accident which occurred several years ago.

Frank Bandick, who was called to Orange by the death of his mother, Mrs. Wilhelmina Bandick, left yesterday morning for his home at Selah, Wash.

Mrs. V. L. Chandler has received a telegram from her son, Roy Chandler, stating that he is now located at Winchester, England.

Louis G. Gunther returned to his duties in the San Pedro shipyard after an enforced vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gunther, on account of illness. H. A. Brown is spending a week at Bakerfield visiting the C. B. Crawford and J. W. Morgan families.

NO ONE TOOK ADVANTAGE
"This seems to be a very dangerous precipice," remarked the tourist. "I wonder that they have not put up a warning board."

"Yes," answered the guide, "it is dangerous. They kept a warning board up for two years, but no one fell over, so it was taken down."

Alibi for Laziness
"Is your new stenographer industrious?"
"I can't deny that she is industrious, but she is too busy knitting to do anything around the office."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Apple prices are strengthening considerably, and a number of the more popular varieties were raised in value yesterday. These included White Winter Pears, Yellow Newtown Pippins, Pippins and Yellow Newtown Pippins. In the vegetable market prices show a slightly higher tendency for some classes and lower quotations for others. Mexican tomatoes are about the only kind that can be secured at present, and they are bringing $2 a crate, or $2.25 a lug. Green lima beans have shot up to 25 cents a pound, and green chile is now worth 18 cents a pound, but cauliflower and celery are both cheaper.

Locally the dry bean situation is a shade firmer than a week ago, but no quotable changes have been made. Butter extras dropped a cent a pound at yesterday afternoon's session of the Produce Exchange.

HOTEL WILL GIVE CIVIC CENTER, SAYS MAYOR VISEL

Compliments the Men Whose Public Spirit Accomplished
the Big Project

"Man requires more than bread, for he is socially inclined, and I am delighted to know that the bunch of boosters working on the project have put it 'over the top,' declared Mayor A. J. Visel this morning, in commenting on the announcement yesterday that the $100,000 tourist hotel is assured.

The announcement was received with delight everywhere and home people feel that it will give the city an impetus that will place it in the front ranks as a tourist city.

With charming drives, mountains and beach resorts on all sides and in close proximity, no city in the Southland has more interesting spots to entertain tourists than Santa Ana.

With a hotel catering particularly to his class of trade, hundreds of easterners who winter in California will be attracted to the city who do not come here now. The advantages of Santa Ana and Orange county will be further advertised in a most effective way.

Continuing his comment on the hotel, Mayor Visel said:

"All honor to the men who have pushed the project through to a successful finish. A tourist hotel has been talked of for a dozen or more years and various sites have been acquired by syndicates. That is as far as the enterprise ever got. Either the time wasn't right or the right men didn't have hold of it.

"This city has been seriously retarded for lack of fitting accommodations. Tourists wandering about California will naturally put in a few days at a place where the accommodations are modern, and, if looking for a place to settle, will finally throw in their lot at the place where they have been the most impressed by surroundings and hotel accommodations.

"We are perfectly willing that our city should be placed in comparison with any of our sister cities in Southern California. If we can get the home-seekers here for a stay of a month or six weeks we have conditions here that cannot but impress them favorably, and make them want to become permanent residents.

"The tourist of today is liable to be the permanent resident of tomorrow, and the more we can get here the better our chances for increasing the wealth and population of the city.

"With the first-class hotel which is to be established, we will have a civic center of which we may be proud. I am certain that the enterprise will receive the united support of the community in the way of dinner parties, etc., and it will provide us with a place where he need not feel ashamed to invite our friends.

"The men responsible have done the community a great public service, and I doff my hat to them."

LA FOLLETTE SHOULD RESIGN SAYS GOV.

WATERTOWN, Wis., Feb. 5.—Governor E. L. Philipp of Wisconsin, speaking here, declared Robert M. La Follette should resign from the U. S. Senate and then demand re-election. This, Philipp said, would be the best way to determine whether La Follette represents the people.

RAIN IN NORTH NOT TO GET SOUTH, FEAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—With a light drizzle falling intermittently in San Francisco early today the weather bureau declared that again the Bay region has been on the edge of a storm which gave Northern California a little wetting and now is moving east. There is little prospect, the bureau said, for this region getting the immediate drenching it needs, although more rain is expected in the state north of San Francisco.

LIEUT. HANKEY IS ORDERED TODAY TO REPORT IN FRANCE

Second Lieutenant Howard Hankey, radio officer of the aeronautical division, left San Antonio, Texas, today for a point of embarkation to France. The time of his departure for the fighting front is not known.

He has been in the training camp at San Antonio for some time, expecting to receive orders at any time to start for the front. His father, J. A. Hankey, received a telegram this morning advising of his departure from camp.

CIGARETTES, SAFETY RAZOR NOT CONCLUSIVE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Just because a hospital interne smokes cigarettes and owns a safety razor, it is no reason to believe that the interne isn't a woman.

It used to be, but today it isn't, for Dr. "Alan" Hart of the San Francisco hospital did those things and wore a natty professional suit and then, when "Alan" applied for a place in the Lane hospital, was recognized by a former Stanford student as having been his frilly, curly haired, sweet voiced classmate of 1915.

The girl left Stanford in 1915 graduated from the University of Oregon last June but, it is believed, was afraid she would fail as a doctor in skirts and curls—so she cast them aside.

CAPT. MARKS ACTING MAJOR AT CAMP LEWIS

FULLERTON, Feb. 5.—Captain E. J. Marks is being kept busy these days at Camp Lewis. In an interesting letter to City Clerk Fred Hezmalhach, received yesterday, he says he is now with A Company, 44th Regiment, and acting major of first battalion. He was in the detachment sent to guard the water front at Tacoma on January 23, and he also presided at special court during absence of senior member. The captain says that when the Creator made the country up around Camp Lewis that He neglected the roof and that it leaks badly. There were over fifteen inches of rain in the month of December, he says.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

CHICKEN PEDDLER CUTTING A CORNER PAYS A FINE OF $10

Good Dodging By Auto Is All That Prevented Accident This Morning

J. Marcus, chicken dealer, was not at all pleased with the world this morning when Deputy Sheriff Maxwell took him into court, where Justice Cox collected $10. Though Marcus is a chicken dealer he did not pay in that variety of coin generally known as chicken feed. He handed over a $10 greenback.

Marcus was fined for an occurrence at the corner of Washington and North Main. Deputy Sheriff Maxwell was going west on Washington and turned south on Main. Marcus was going north on Main and turned east. Maxwell stopped on his side of the intersection so that Marcus, who had signalled his turn, could pass in front of him. Instead of passing in front, Marcus cut the corner and passed behind Maxwell. That came near causing J. W. Tubbs, who was coming up from behind Marcus to run into him. By good dodging Tubbs avoided an accident.

BEGIN LICENSE SYSTEM IN U. S. OIL INDUSTRY

Two Hundred Firms Expected to Come Under Ruling of Proclamation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The oil industry of America today prepared to go under a partial licensing system in compliance with President Wilson's proclamation placing all oil fuel under government control.

No attempt at price fixing is intended for the present, it was declared at the fuel administration.

By establishing a priority list, President Wilson insured the supply of fuel oil for necessary uses, though there was no shortage in oil production, and, given proper transportation facilities, no one would be without fuel oil sufficient for his normal needs.

Diversion of tank ships to trans-Atlantic uses and rail congestion have created an artificial shortage of oil at Atlantic ports and oil centers. Until these conditions can be remedied, essential industries must wait until the preferred industries have been served.

No plans for increasing production in crude oil are contemplated by the fuel administration now. Two hundred oil firms are expected to come under the licensing provisions, which will include only firms whose gross sales of fuel and gas oils are 100,000 barrels or more annually. Fuel Administrator Garfield has issued a special order exempting petroleum and its products from the Monday closing and priority orders issued January 17.

Oil men welcome the licensing scheme as a relief from their troubles.

M'ADOO BEGINS PROBE OF U. S. R. R. FINANCES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Director General McAdoo began probing the financial condition of the lines composing the National railroad today.

Orders were issued requiring all roads to report to the Interstate Commerce Commission details regarding all cash in banks, outstanding obligations, funds held by financial agents, trustees and subsidiary companies and all other details indicating present financial conditions of the lines.

These reports will be kept as against those kept by Comptroller of the Currency Williams. Discrepancies will lead to immediate investigation by the railroad administration, it was stated.
